

Errata Sheet

To find applicable changes, find your version of the book listed below (e.g., Version 3.4). All changes listed under that version and any versions that follow (e.g., Version 3.5 and higher) will apply to your version.

Location	Incorrect	Correct
Version 8.0
Page 14, second example, Premise 2	“A poodle is bird.”	Corrected to: “A poodle is a bird.”
Page 86, 1st paragraph, line 6	“Or, the person cold have been . . . ”	Corrected to: “Or, the person could have been . . . ”
Page 109, 1st paragraph, line 4	The fourth sentence on page 109 says, “Clearly his argument dodges the issue of whether or not hunting is cruel to animals by citing an irrelevant function or goal of hunting: the pleasure it brings to hunters.” Alternatively, the first sentence of the second paragraph says, “This argument is not an example of irrelevant goals or functions because it does not judge or assess hunting against any goal or function.” These two sentences contradict each other.	Change the fourth sentence in the first paragraph to the following: “Clearly his argument dodges the issue of whether or not hunting is cruel to animals by citing an irrelevant thesis: the pleasure it brings to hunters.”
Page 212, #8	The answer given is incorrect.	Should be: Clarity, distinction without a difference
Page 212, #10	The answer given is incorrect.	Should be: Relevance, irrelevant goals or functions
Page 270, Unit 1 Test, #12	The answer given is incorrect.	Should be: irrelevant thesis
Prior to Version 8.0

Note: Version 8.0 was dramatically revised from the previous versions. The extensive revision included updating examples, using less sensitive issues for examples, rewriting definitions and some teaching paragraphs, and providing more exercises and answers, as well as a complete content and English-language edit and the creation of a Teacher's Edition (instead of just an answer key). Due to the length of these revisions and the page numbers changing as a result, we will not list each revision in this errata sheet.
